

Member Access to Safety Source, On-Line Safety Training Videos

---

In 2020, the Comp Alliance announced our partnership with Safety Source, an on-line video training service with a multitude of safety training programs available to our valued members. Safety Source offers over 850 training topics, providing quality safety materials to enhance your safety training programs. The training videos comprise a number of vital safety topics to address the hazards associated with various work environments and job descriptions. These safety videos are presented in a way that is both effective and easy to understand. The videos provide a short, impactful message of safety and improving knowledge on an array of safety topics and can be utilized as a stand-alone training system or to supplement your existing in-house safety programs.

To access this extensive safety video library, Comp Alliance members will need to obtain a unique Username and Password. Reach out to Shawn Roes at sroes@wrightinsurance.com, to gain this information. Once you are provided registered access, you can visit the site at www.safetysourceonline.com. Upon login, you can search the Video on Demand (VOD) system for particular safety topics, view their latest video offerings under New Releases, or search through the headings listed on particular job descriptions. The videos are succinct and to the point, addressing workplace hazards, and impart easily relatable messaging. Most training videos are offered in Spanish as well. If you require technical support, Safety Source provides an e-mail contact and phone number.

Valuable training offerings include the following safety topics which our municipal members would find most helpful:

- De-Escalation Techniques (SS2213AE)
- Chainsaw Safety (SS3011AE)
- Lockout-Tagout (SS1036AE)
- Confined Space Entry (SS1055HE)
- Fire Extinguisher Training (SS5072AE)
- Emergency Preparedness and Safe Evacuation (SS1097IE)
- Welding Safety (SS1103AE)
- Office Ergonomics (SS1082IE)
- Plus many, many more.

The Comp Alliance has been offering virtual training programs on the mandatory PESH topics of Workplace Violence, Right-to-Know, and Bloodborne Pathogens. These programs are also offered on Safety Source, as an alternate training option. As part of our workplace violence program, we emphasize employee's utilization of de-escalation techniques to control or diffuse potentially hostile situations. These can arise during board meetings, emergency situations or daily public interactions. We suggest members train staff with Safety Source's De-Escalation Techniques video for improved knowledge on handling these dangerous situations. The video provides advice on conflict resolution and improving interactions with the public.

Safety training is perhaps the most valuable asset to improve worker safety and better recognize and remove hazards from the workplace. We urge you to supplement your safety training program by utilizing the Safety Source video training service as a means to address safety concerns and procedures at your municipal operations.
